

Altos Ventures Current Portfolio

Accelovation's Market Discovery Solution is a web-based application that combines search and text analytics technologies to help companies quickly answer sophisticated technology and market questions.

Accolo is a leader in the Recruitment Process Outsourcing (RPO) Industry. They can augment or become the entire recruitment department for client organizations.

Billeo's award winning product enables consumers to view and pay online bills directly without having to go through consolidators such as bank bill payment sites.

BlogCocktail runs www.allblog.net which provides search and community services for bloggers in Korea.

Branders.com is the leading online provider of custom-branded promotional products. The company is revolutionizing a multi-billion dollar industry traditionally served by tens of thousands of brokers.

CrownPeak is the only company that provides comprehensive, world-class website management as a hosted software solution. CrownPeak solutions include web content management, search, web hosting, and intranet/extranets.

Demandbase provides businesses with the first pay-as-you-go service for buying marketing lists and sales leads.

DemandTec is the leading provider of pricing optimization and Demand Based Management software. Its products help retailers and manufacturers optimize merchandising decisions for sales, profits, and price image.

Edgenuity addresses the critical need to improve instruction and outcomes in K-12 education in the US. The company offers hosted software solutions that provide administrators and teachers with actionable information to produce real and measurable improvements in student performance.

Enwisen's Web-based benefits communication software allows companies to provide information on HR policies and benefits to their workforce, reducing costs by helping employees help themselves.

GuardianEdge is a market leader in reducing the cost and complexity of enterprise data security. Customers around the world depend on GuardianEdge solutions to protect sensitive and proprietary information, to ensure compliance with rules for safeguarding privacy, and to enable secure enterprise mobility.

Instill provides ebusiness services for foodservice providers, including restaurant operators, distributors and manufacturers.

Lohika's sole focus is providing software development for technology companies. Lohika's customers select them for their ability to deliver high-end core product development.

Altos Ventures Current Portfolio

美通无线
MTONE WIRELESS

Mtone Wireless provides data services for wireless operators in China. The company offers interactive content that are marketed to end-users on a per-use and subscriber basis.

NEW VINE LOGISTICS

New Vine Logistics is a third party logistics company utilizing proprietary software for the distribution of wine, spirits, and other highly regulated or hard-to-handle products. It is the only company that can fulfill wine across the U.S. from centralized producer-owned inventory.

OutSpark works with passionate casual game developers globally, to bring new entertainment experience in casual, connected gameplay.

Pandora.tv is the leading video sharing and personal broadcasting site in Korea.

Provade is the leading provider of on-demand managed procurement solutions. Built around ERP procurement applications, Provade's category-driven managed services and solutions help businesses realize measurable savings, minimal investment, simple integration, and greater visibility.

SeeControl provides solutions to monitor service parts and inventory distributed in remote locations. SeeControl allows field personnel to record information in real-time and through a web-based interface, allows management to monitor and view inventory levels, consumption history and receive alerts and notifications to increase uptime to meet service level agreements.

Vapro is developing breakthrough thermal management solutions for electronics.

Vesta provides fraud management, payment processing, customer service, and program management for prepaid products offered by major telecom carriers and other stored value clients.

WhiteHat Security is a leading provider of web application security services. WhiteHat develops comprehensive, easy-to-use, cost-effective solutions that enable companies to secure valuable customer data, meet federal compliance standards, and maintain customer confidence.

Xignite is the leading provider of on-demand financial web services for mission-critical applications. Their clients use their web services to power portfolio management systems, sales management systems, ERP applications, trading applications, corporate portals, web sites, analytical engines and more.

Yosemite Technologies develops and markets backup and disaster recovery software products targeted at mid-market and departmental enterprise customers.